

P IS FOR PANDEMIC

BY JOSH GORDON
& FRIENDS

P is for Pandemic is an A-Z of the Coronavirus for parents, children, and people who need a laugh.

It was created by 15 talented artists (and one baby) who illustrated each letter in their own style.

(Obviously. we didn't have anyone illustrate the intro page.)

This children's book was created as a fundraising effort for No Kid Hungry, an organization that is helping feed children affected by school closures due to the Coronavirus pandemic.

Enjoy.

A is for Alarm

Being overly cautious is better than being not cautious enough. Woops, too late.

B is for

Ban

Governments banned travel from places where the Coronavirus is not contained... so most places.

ARRIVALS

C is for COVID-19

COVID-19 is short for Coronavirus Disease 2019. Maybe it's not the best name, but hindsight is COVID-2020.

D is for Drive-Up Clinic

You can get tested for the Coronavirus from your car to help prevent spreading the virus to others. Would you like a cure with that?

E is for

Everything is Cancelled

Sports, conferences, and all of Italy, everything is cancelled to try and prevent more contaminations. Everything except your mortgage.

F is for Face Masks

Face masks are for healthcare professionals, people who have symptoms, and Mexican wrestlers.

G is for Global

The Coronavirus is on every continent, except Antarctica. Good for you penguins.

H is for Handwashing

Be sure to thoroughly wash your hands often. This is a good all-the-time rule, not just during a pandemic.

I is for Infectious

You can be contagious before you feel symptoms, so let's all not go out for a couple months.

J is for Jammies

Staying at home in your pajamas is the most comfortable way to decrease the spread of the virus.

K is for

Kids

The one good thing about COVID-19 is that young people don't seem to get sick as often. But they can still spread the virus.

L is for Laboratory Testing

This is not a test! This is an actual pandemic! And tests seem hard to find right now.

M is for Markets

The stock market and your 401k may have crashed, but it'll come back. Or it just won't matter.

N is for No Touching

Try not to touch others or your face, or other faces, or face others, or other touches.

O is for

Oy

The Coronavirus is often more dangerous for the elderly. If you use words like “Oy”, you’re probably in trouble.

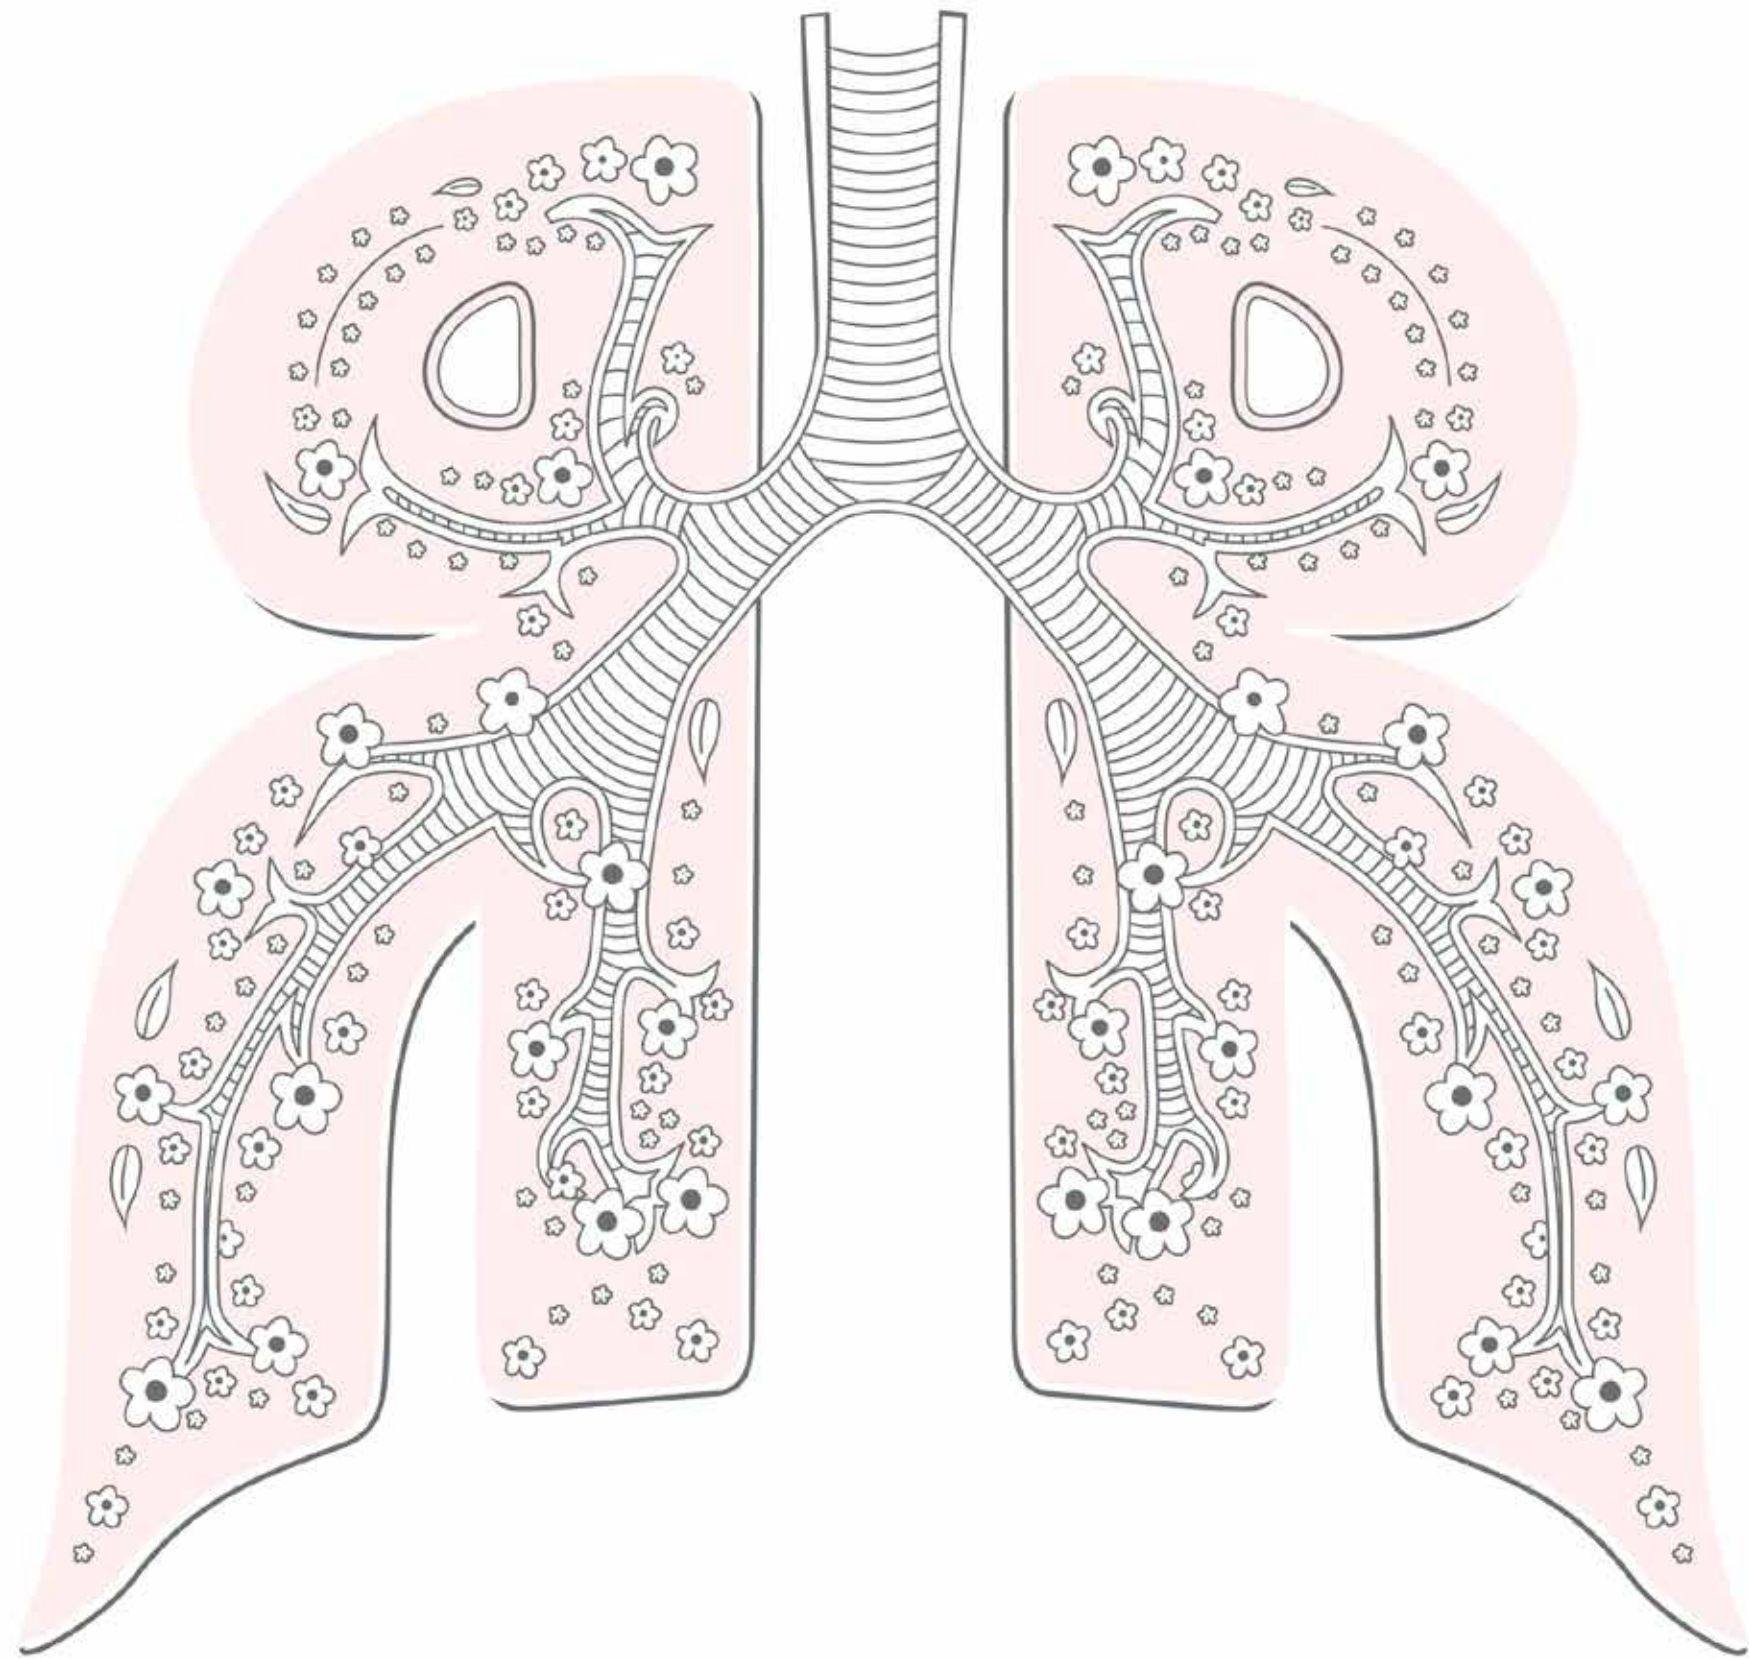

P is for Pandemic

The World Health Organization declared the Coronavirus a global pandemic. Yup, we are all in this together.

Q is for Quarantine

If you're feeling sick, you should self-quarantine to help stop the spread. Or even if you don't feel sick, let's all take some alone time.

R is for Respiratory

Just breathing spreads the virus,
and coughing freaks everyone out
who is around you.

S is for Social Distancing

Now is a good time to enjoy being an introvert.

T is for Toilet Paper

Panic buying TP won't stop the virus. If you feel poopy, you should self-quarantine for two weeks.

U is for Underreported

Due to lack of testing, we don't know how many people have the Coronavirus. But we do know how many basketball players have it.

V is for Vaccine

Hahahahah. Yeah, we need one. And we need it fast.

W is for

Work From Home

Finally, you can use all the pens
you stole from the office.

X is for Xylophone

If you're stressed about the Coronavirus, relax by playing the Xylophone.

Y is for

You

Everyone can do something to stop the virus. Even if you stay at home and watch movies all day, you're helping!

Z is for

Zzzzz

Get some rest. Maybe you'll wake up and this will all have been a weird dream.

Thank you to everyone who was a part of P is for Pandemic
